(Table showing the performance of Egyptian sovereign sukuk on 29/05/2026)

The rise in the prices of Egyptian international sovereign sukuk coincided with relative progress in the U.S.-Iran negotiations, as signs of geopolitical de-escalation enhanced investor confidence and reduced risk aversion across global financial markets. Expectations of improved oil supply conditions also helped stabilize global financial markets.

This, in turn, supported capital flows into fixed-income instruments in emerging markets and contributed to the improved performance of Egyptian international sovereign sukuk during last week's trading, as shown in the table above.
